Don't Risk Over Service during the Holidays

With the busy holiday season approaching, please be mindful to avoid over serving customers. Over service is prohibited by Kentucky law (KRS 244.080(2)). Avoiding over service may be a difficult call to make because many times it is a regular customer in question. But, risking the irritation or loss of a customer is trifling compared to the very real risk of injury or death to the inebriated customer and other highway travelers. The licensee's potential legal liability for injuries that may follow over service is contrastingly sobering. From a business standpoint there is no question, over service is a bad business risk. Check with your attorney and your insurance carrier; we are sure they will agree. Be safe and profitable, please don't over serve.
